

SHARP POLITICS TO DIVULGE

Tammany Got Busy When the Portchester Company Proposed to Look Only to Republicans and Fusionists.

SULLIVANS INTERESTED ON THE OTHER SIDE.

Mayor. It Is Predicted, Will Sign Grant After Public Hearing, with Stipulation to Protect the Bronx.

The backers of the New York and Portchester Railway Company, which did not get a franchise from the Board of Aldermen, and those of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railway, which did, differ in opinion as to the action of Mayor McClellan after he has heard both sides at the public hearing Wednesday.

While it is apparent that the Portchester people were "thrown down" by the ruling members of the board and that extreme favoritism was shown the New York, Westchester and Boston enterprise, there is no open accusation that money was paid by the latter company for a franchise, but it is known that politics and friendship have had a great deal to do with the action of the leaders of the board in voting the franchise to the Westchester Company.

Barring proof of corruption, it is believed that the Mayor will not veto the franchise if he is assured that the company now holding the certificate means business.

Through Congressman Sullivan and Alderman Timothy P. Sullivan, the Westchester company was enabled to obtain the franchise. As the Sullivan are prepared to show, they say, that good politics will demand the signing of the franchise, it is stated by an authority that the vetoing power of the Mayor will not be exercised.

And the people of the Bronx are not to be ignored either. Mayor McClellan will demand that he be provided with every assurance that the company holding the certificate will build within a certain limited period. Toward this he may cause the franchise to be returned to the board with the recommendation that a clause be inserted providing for a time limit on building the road, and the further provision that a heavy bond must be filed to insure the fulfillment of this condition.

The politics of the situation is interesting. When the original application of the Portchester Railroad Company was filed by President Gottschall Tammany was desperately in the minority. It reached the ears of the Tammany leaders that the Democratic members of the board were to be ignored in the contemplated passage of the Portchester franchise, and that the projectors of the road would have nothing to do with Tammany, but could look exclusively to the Republican and Fusion members.

With the knowledge of these stories Tammany got busy. Deals were made in the Board. Fusion members were won over to Tammany by promises of money and Tammany has since "made good." The Sullivan, who are very close to the Board, were encouraged by Wall Street railroad folk to oppose the granting of the Portchester franchise.

The scheme to present the claims of the Westchester project was ready to be sprung. It is now stated that August Belmont was the actual owner of the old Westchester franchise, he having purchased it from William P. Van Pelt, who purchased the franchise rights and title of the old Westchester Company at a receiver's sale in 1881. Van Pelt then organized the East River and Connecticut Railroad, having an advance of 1-2 and Copper was strong at about 6-8 higher.

The story that the Rockefeller and Vanderbilt and other large holdings of the New York Central stock had been pooled for five years helped Central in the face of the reports that it was about to enter the market for a loan of $20,000,000. There is almost no floating supply and the stock is so hard to borrow that the traders are afraid to sell it short and those that are short are covering at every opportunity.

The general improvement in the steel and iron trade was reflected in the steadiness of the Steel issues. The railroads are estimated to begin improvements amounting to about $20,000,000 which were held by the general decline in the market and the dullness in the iron and steel trade. The semi-official announcement that the Steel preferred dividend would be maintained also was a helpful influence. The outlook warrants this continuance even if the present quarter should be a poor one.

The Grangers were all steady, but seemed to be a little soft and showed a disposition to sell on Saturday's closing. The grain-rate war. The market closed dull, with prices at the best of the day.
